Switzerland Refuses to Agree to Germany's Arrogant Demands.

GERMAN RETALIATION MEASURES.

The Emperor Does Not Approve of the Chancellor's Plans.

A ROYAL CONVERT TO CATHOLICISM.

The Sister of the Minister to Washington Puts an End to Her Life.

Switzerland has made a defiant reply to the demands of Bismarck. The Chancellor has been forced to modify his plans. He is endeavoring to retaliate on the little republie in other ways. The Empress Augusta has joined the Catholic Church. The Re chstag will meet in the near future.

COPYRIGHTED BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, 1889. BERLIN, July 13 .- The reply of the Swiss Bundesrath was received at the Foreign Office vesterday evening. Though civil in tone, it is none the less defiant, and is throughout a vindication of the rights of refugees and of Swiss action toward German

The note persists that the arrest and expulsion of Wohlgemuth were fully justified, and savs: "The Bundesrath must further adhere to its interpretation of article second of the settlement treaty of 1876, which in no wise restricts the right of the two Governments to receive in their respective territories anyone they deem fit. The Bundesrath must insist all the more upon its rights being respected as firmly determined to fulfil its interna-tional obligations."

RETALIATORY MEASURES. The tenor of the reply was communicated to the German Minister at Berne early in the week. The communication was the signal for the adoption of stringent measures for the scrutiny of travelers crossing the Swiss frontier, baggage being mercilessly overhauled and goods wantonly searched and delayed. To-day's National Zeitung denies that these regulations are reprisals and declares that they are due to directions from the Im-perial customs officials uninfluenced by the Government. The Swiss Cantonal authorities, believing otherwise, direct travelers to proceed through Austrian territory, via Bregenz. The attitude of the Swiss Government is probably strengthened by the knowledge that Prince Bismarck's menaces to Swiss neutrality occasions dissatisfaction.

The Emperor was not consulted concern-ing the dispatches. His Majesty has advised Prince Bismarck to modify his tone and thus avoid aggravating the difficulty. As a result, the semi-official papers are moderate in their expressions of hostility toward Switzerland.

NOT SO BELLIGERENT.

The North German Gazette to-night, commenting on the situation, contains no suggestion assailing Swiss neutrality, nor even a denunciation of the "settlement" treaty. The Gazette explains that the dispatch of June 5 was the outcome of an understanding with Russia, and proceeds to show that its object was, by giving it the tone and tenor of an identical Russian note, presented at the same time, to accentuate the impression it was intended to produce.

Its purpose so far has been attained, the Swiss authorities giving due consideration to the Russian representations, and it is expected that they will ultimately recognize he German claims, though in a less friendly and less expeditious manner. The diplo-matic action of Germany is aimed at the Social democracy of Switzerland. Against Switzerland itself this policy is directed only in so far as elements hostile to the Ger man Empire are protected and promoted

It is expected that the autumn session of the Reichstag will begin about the middle of October. It will be the last session of the present Reichstag. AN IMPORTANT DISPUTE. The Berlin press is absorbed in a dispute over the relative positions of Prince Bismarck and Count von Waldersee. The North German Gazette, in which Count von Waldersee was attacked as trying to influ-ence the German foreign policy, finds it necessary to announce that the article in question was not officially inspired Severe thunder storms prevailed throughout Central Germany vesterday, sweeping over Westphalia and Thuringia, doing Cluseeret moved the previous question. The motion was rejected by a vote of 331 to 204, and urwas granted for the bill. At this point M. l'Herisse ascended the tribune and insisted upon speaking. For this action he was censured by the President of the Chamber, who also ordered his temporary exclusion from the House. The Chamber then took a short recess. Upon resuming. M. l'Herisse was still in the tribune. The captain of the Guard of the Palais Bourbon, with a detachment of soldiers, thereupon entered the House and requested M. l'Herisse to descend from the tribune.

M. I'Herisse replied that he was there by virtue of the mandate of the electors and would yield only to force. The captain then placed his hand upon M. l'Herisse's shoulder and quietly conducted him outsid the House. M. Vietts' measure afterward passed by a vote o: 304 to 229.

A SAFE ROBBED.

Someone Stole $1,600 From a Safe in the Mast. James Hotel - The Whole Affair is Wrapped in Mystery. One of the neatest and at the same time place in the city for a long time occurred early yesterday morning. At 10 o'clock on Saturday morning Mr. James K. Lanahan, proprietor of the St. James Hotel, on Liberty street, opposite the Union depot, placed in his $1,200 in money and a check $400. When he got up at 9 o'clock and went to the safe the money and check, as well as a bankbook on T. Mellon & Sons' bank, were missing. This money had been placed in a large safe that occupies a portion of the storeroom of the hotel, just in the rear of the sitting room. The sate is an old-fashioned one, not having any combination lock, as the storeroom was thought to be a safe place the outside door of the safe was never locked.

Mr. Lanahan states that money is seldom kept in that sale, but as yesterday was pay-day on the P. R. R., he drew the money from bank in order to cash the checks of the P. R. R. employes, as is his custom every month. Previous to retiring last night the money was counted by him, and placed in the safe. He closed the window and locked the door of the store room. When he went in yesterday morning he found the window open; the safe was also open and the contents of the cash drawer one. Ingress to the room could easily have een obtained from the wash room.

The impression is that the robbery was perpetrated by some one who is thoroughly conversant with the hotel and its surroundings. At present the entire affair is wrapped in mystery. The lock on the money drawer was not forced, neither was the window through which the thief made his escape. The matter has been placed in the hands of Yesterday he alleges he gained informa-tion that Whitley had stolen $5 worth of brass, and that other parties are also impli-cated. A warrant for Whitley's arrest was and Makes His Escape. About 10 o'clock last night an unknown colored man went into the jewelry store of J. C. Marks, at 104 Ohio street, Allegheny and asked to see some gold watches, inti-mating that he wished to buy one. Four were shown him, and after looking over them for a short time he picked up two of them and dashed out of the door. The street was crowded, and although Mr. Marks followed after him and called to the crowd to catch him, he eluded capture in the crowd, and ran into West allev, where he disappeared. The watches he secured were valued at $50 and $75 each.

FIRE AT FREEPORT.

The Smallest of Guckenheimer's Distiller Burned to the Ground-The Work Necessary to Save the Goverument Warehouse-Aid From Allegheny, INTECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.

FREEPORT, July 13 .- Guckenheimer' nallest distillery at Freeport was burned to the ground this evening. It is located on the Butler county side of Buffalo creek. The firm's largest distillery is a mile distant on the Armstrong county side. To each establishment there is connected a onded warehouse. Close beside building which was burned is a warehouse containing $500,000 worth of whisky. In round numbers it amounts to whisky. In round numbers it amounts to 13,300 barrels. It was the imminent danger of this vast reservoir of liquor that caused the telegram to be sent to Acting Chief Jones, of the Allegheny Fire Department, at 7:15 o'clock asking for aid. The fire broke out shortly before 7. Chief Jones did remarkably quick work in loading the Columbia engine and a wagon full of hose upon a gondola car at Madison avenue. A car was added to carry Councilman Emanuel Wertheimer and Isaac Guckenheimer, two members of the firm, and THE DISPATCH correspondent. A start was made at 8:30 and Freeport was reached in exactly 40 minutes. It is a distance of 28 miles. most successful robberies that has taken

The distillery, which is known as the Montrose building, was a three-story frame structure 75 feet long and 40 wide. Its de-struction was complete in an hour and a half. The great fight was to save the big Government warehouse. Only a 20-foot alley divided it from the distillery. Robert O'Brien was the first man to come to the aid of the night watchman. They quickly broke open the hose house, but it was full of flame, and they found the hose already melted and the chemical fire extinguisher ruined. A small line of hose was borrowed from the railroad and an inch stream thrown on the blazing distillery. That of course was of no consequence. A bucket brigade formed a line down to the creek, and in this way the front of the warehouse was kept wet. Still its cornices and wooden window frames were charred. Citizens generally, turned in to charred. Citizens generally turned in to prevent such a monstrous conflagration as would have resulted had the 13,000 barrels of whisky taken fire, and they were only sure they had accomplished it when the en-gine arrived from Allegheny.

The loss is estimated at $35,000. Patterson & Travis, insurance agents of Freeport, had placed in six Eastern and home companies $30,000 insurance on the burned building. There will be very little salvage. The wormtub is believed to be about the only part of the costly apparatus not ruined. New "doublers" were only recently erected in the distillery. The still was an old frame work, however, but the mill was more valuable. Some new mash tubs were also put in only lately. There was no liquor in the distillery at the time. The piping, boilers and engine are wrecked. Theorigin of the fire cannot be stated. It was in the lower end of the building, where carpenters had been at work during the afternoon. A spark from a locomotive might have fired the shavings. It was an exciting and danger-ous fire, but nobody was hurt. The build-ing will be replaced at once.

UTICA, N. Y., July 13 .- The monument ected at the grave of Roscoe Conkling, in Forest Hill Cemetery, this city, was completed to-day. It stands on the family plot just north of the monument to Horatic Seymour. The monument is of Quincy granite, and in the form of a sarcophagus.

Among the varied attractions that address the housekeepers' attention there are none that can compare with the old established Tenth street and Penn avenue Cash or Credit Establishment. The line of Parlor, Chamber and Dining Room Furniture, the vast stock of Carpets and other floor coverings, are ample to meet every demand. The extraordinary variety of Baby Carriages and Refrigerators is indeed grand in the extreme. The quality of the goods is such as to insure every purchaser full and true value! The liberality of the credit syste m and the well-known reputation of the house for just and honest dealing, quells the rejugnance of purchasing on credit when the name Pickering is mentioned. Old residenter s of our city need no invitations, as they regard our place as the only house where their wants can be supplied satisfactorily. We permit no house
